Your child's motivation to read is an area of skill development I will be focusing on across the school year. Please use this form to share information that may help me support your child in the classroom.

The skills in this document represent key milestones that children typically reach during the kindergarten year. It is okay if some of the behaviors and skills included in this form are not familiar to you or are not behaviors you typically watch for in your everyday interactions with your child. Answer to the best of your ability, or select "I'm not sure."
